

MARINE FLAKES

A complete well balanced diet for coral reef fishes

Over 20 years experience in marine ornamental aquaculture and water processing has enabled New Era Aquaculture to formulate a first for the aquarium industry.

As part of our technical nutrition concept New Era have harnessed the latest scientific knowledge to create a tailor made technical fish foods and supplements range.

Marine Flakes is our core technical feed that incorporates our expert knowledge of natural ingredients and preservatives to deliver a highly palatable and digestible balanced diet for captive coral reef species. It can be used alone as a complete feed, or in rotation with our technical Aegis range to maximise health and vigour.

Benefits

- A simple and effective feeding programme that satisfies the nutritional requirements of captive coral reef species
- Designed to minimise leaching effects complementing re-circulated filtration systems

Available in 30g pots & 200g pails

MARINE LIPOSOME SPRAY

Enhances the dietary profile of frozen foods

Our advancements in lipid technology have enabled the latest innovation and dietary understanding to be applied to frozen feeding regimes.

The Marine Liposome Spray is rich in vitamins and antioxidants and is blended with premium fish oils, natural pigments and nutraceuticals that assist by binding to tissues of frozen foods to enhance its nutritional profile.

Benefits

- A unique product that is a simple and effective addition to habitual feeding regimes
- Prevents the rapid degradation of thawing frozen food
